

AI Manga Generation Service 'HANASEE' Launches Pre-Registration Campaign Offering 80000 USD Worth of Credits

Early registrants will receive exclusive rewards ahead of the official release of Xross Road's new AI-powered manga creation service.

DOVER, DE, UNITED STATES, December 10, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Xross Road Inc. has launched a pre-registration campaign for HANASEE, a new AI-agent manga creation service scheduled to be released through Xross Road, a Web3 platform focused on IP content.

Xross Road has launched the pre-registration campaign for its AI manga creation service, HANASEE.

As part of this campaign, users who complete pre-registration ahead of the official launch will receive access to a total of 80000 USD worth of credits, which can be used to experience the new workflow of turning novels into manga.

About HANASEE

HANASEE is a content creation platform that allows users to generate commercial-grade manga from novels using an AI agent tool.

Novelists can upload their works, and creators can adapt them into manga (secondary works) and publish them on the platform—enabling stories to reach audiences in new formats and across new communities.

The service is planned for global release on December 25, launching in both Japanese and English.

The initial release will include:

- Upload tool with automatic translation for novel text
- AI-based scene segmentation and plot generation

- AI-generated character design drafts with editing tools
- Page-by-page AI image generation and replacement
- Publishing & viewing features for completed works

Campaign Details

To allow early users to explore and enjoy the HANASEE experience, special benefits will be offered to those who complete pre-registration before launch. Anyone interested in manga creation, AI tools, or novel-to-manga adaptation is welcome to participate.
