Market?

The global demand for bottled water is a driving force behind the expansion of the plastic caps and closures market. Drinking water in plastic or glass bottles, also known as bottled water, is capped and sealed with plastic lids and closures to prevent leakage, enable easy transportation, and increase its longevity. For example, in May 2023, data from the International Bottled Water Association, a US-based trade group, indicated that Americans consumed about 46.5 gallons of bottled water per person in 2022, which translated into nearly $46 billion, a significant increase from $40.8 billion in 2021. These trends are predicted to persist in the future, fuelling the demand for plastic caps and closures.
