SECURITY TODAY ANNOUNCES WINNERS OF ITS 2025 CYBERSECURED AWARDS

Security Today is pleased to announce the winners of its fifth annual CyberSecured Awards program.

WOODLAND HILLS, CA, UNITED STATES, December 4, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Security Today, a provider of security news, insights and product information for security suppliers, end users and IT decision makers, a part of Converge360, is pleased to announce the winners of its fifth annual CyberSecured Awards program.

This distinguished program celebrates organizations whose network solutions and cybersecurity innovations strengthen the safety of our digital world. This year, 16 outstanding companies are being honored for their achievements.

"Each year, the cybersecurity landscape becomes more complex, and yet the innovators we honor today continue to rise to that challenge," said Ralph C. Jensen, editor in chief and publisher of Security Today. "The organizations recognized through our CyberSecured Awards demonstrate a relentless commitment to safeguarding the systems, data and infrastructure that keep our world connected."

"As threats evolve, so must our resolve. These 16 companies exemplify the ingenuity and leadership required to advance cybersecurity in meaningful, measurable ways. Their work not only strengthens the digital ecosystem we all rely on but also sets the standard for what the future of security innovation looks like."
