

Keep the Lights On: Bray Electrical Services Highlights Holiday Electrical Risks in Decatur

Bray Electrical Services warns Decatur homeowners of holiday electrical hazards and urges inspections to prevent power surges and outages this December.

DECATUR, GA, UNITED STATES, December 5, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- As holiday lighting, space heaters, and winter storms increase electrical demand, Bray Electrical Services is urging Decatur residents and businesses to take proactive steps to safeguard their homes and commercial properties. The company, licensed and insured with a Class 2 Unrestricted Master Electrician License, is launching a December advisory highlighting common holiday electrical hazards and offering inspections, panel upgrades, and surge protection services.

"December consistently brings a surge in emergency calls," said the spokesperson for Bray Electrical Services. "Holiday decorations, extra appliance use, and colder temperatures put significant strain on electrical systems. A simple inspection now can prevent outages, fire hazards, and costly repairs during the festive season."

Holiday Electrical Risks in Decatur Homes

According to local electricians, the most frequent December issues include:

Overloaded circuits and tripped breakers from holiday lights, cooking appliances, and heaters

Power surges caused by winter storms

Aging wiring and outdated outlets in older homes

Outdoor lighting hazards from improperly rated cords or exposed outlets

Generator and EV charger misconfigurations

By addressing these issues ahead of time, homeowners can avoid both safety hazards and disruptions during holiday gatherings.

Expanded Services for December

To meet the increased seasonal demand, Bray Electrical Services is offering enhanced scheduling and availability for:

Panel and breaker inspections and upgrades

Holiday lighting safety evaluations

Outdoor outlet inspections and repairs

Generator installation and surge protection

Level 2 EV charger setup

Emergency electrical services

“Our team is committed to helping Decatur residents enjoy a safe and uninterrupted holiday season,” added the spokesperson. “With expanded December availability, we can respond quickly to both planned inspections and unexpected emergencies.”

Holiday Electrical Safety Tips

Bray Electrical Services recommends that residents follow these simple precautions:

Avoid overloading circuits with multiple high-draw devices

Use outdoor-rated cords and lights for exterior décor

Inspect older lights and wiring for fraying or damage

Unplug space heaters when not in use

Schedule professional inspections for older homes or complex electrical systems

“These steps, combined with professional support, significantly reduce the risk of fire or power disruptions,” the spokesperson said.
