Turning Classrooms into Thriving
Communities Where Both Students and Teachers Excel

Angela Fuentes, the dedicated Assistant Principal at Fairfield Career Center, part of the Eastland-Fairfield Career and Technical Schools, is making remarkable strides in education. With over a decade of experience, Angela is committed to fostering an environment that empowers students and teachers alike, emphasizing the importance of compassion, leadership, and inclusivity in the educational journey.

Angela's career reflects a profound dedication to creating supportive learning environments tailored to the diverse needs of her students. Her expertise spans various domains, including special education, curriculum development, and educational leadership, with a particular emphasis on supporting students with emotional and behavioral disorders. By prioritizing the emotional well-being of her students, Angela ensures that every learner has the opportunity to thrive academically and personally.

Before her current role at Fairfield Career Center, Angela served as an Assistant Principal at Whitehall City Schools. Her earlier experiences as an Intervention Specialist in Columbus City Schools and The Children's Home of Cincinnati have equipped her with a deep understanding of individualized education. Angela's postgraduate training at Grand Canyon University and TUI University, where she earned dual Master's degrees in Educational Leadership and Curriculum and Instruction, showcases her lifelong commitment to professional growth and educational excellence.

Angela's impact goes beyond her professional responsibilities. She is a passionate community advocate, actively volunteering with the Boone County Pee Wee Football League and serving on the advisory board for Colts Wrestling. Her involvement in these organizations underscores her belief in the importance of nurturing well-rounded students both in and out of the classroom. Additionally, as a member of the National Association of Secondary School Principals, Angela stays connected to broader educational trends and best practices.

Reflecting on her journey, Angela credits her success to necessity, which has consistently driven her to adapt, grow, and overcome challenges. One of the most valuable pieces of advice she has received is to "never dumb it down for anyone—let others rise to meet your level." This philosophy is at the core of her leadership style, inspiring both her colleagues and students to strive for excellence.

For young women entering the field of education, Angela offers powerful advice: "There isn't a more challenging professional field than education. Know that it takes resilience, tenacity, teamwork, dedication, and determination. Educators make all other professions possible and can be the source of great power. Use it for good." Her words resonate as a call to action for the next generation of educators.

In today's rapidly changing educational landscape, Angela acknowledges that one of the biggest challenges is keeping her students' knowledge fresh and relevant. She emphasizes the importance of ownership and accountability in both her professional and personal life, stating, "I believe my space is my responsibility, and I can either make excuses or make it work."

Outside of her professional commitments, Angela enjoys studying diverse cultures, listening to live music, spending quality time with her family, and cheering on Ohio State football.

As Angela Fuentes continues to advance the mission of Fairfield Career Center, her analytical thinking, collaborative leadership, and boundless positive energy make her a true beacon of inspiration in education. She fosters environments where teachers feel empowered and students are motivated to reach their fullest potential—shaping not only individual success but the future of learning itself.
