company has been selected as the sole recipient of the "Top Cannabis Seed Sales Service 2026" award in an upcoming national industry publication. This exclusive recognition highlights the company's exceptional performance, customer trust, and leadership throughout its strongest year to date.

Over the past year, Seeds Here Now experienced major expansion by adding several high-profile breeders to its roster. New partnerships include Barney's Farm, Cali Connection, and exclusive drops from Exotic Genetix and Dominion Seed Company. These additions strengthen Seeds Here Now's position as one of the most established and trusted sources for breeder-direct cannabis genetics in the United States.

For more than 15 years, Seeds Here Now has focused on transparency, authenticity, and customer protection. The company continues to differentiate itself with two core policies: the Grower Guarantee, which offers support and resolution for customers who experience germination issues, and the Price Match Promise, which ensures customers always receive the best available value for verified genetics. Together, these policies reinforce the company's reputation as a reliable partner for growers at every experience level.

The publication's editorial board confirmed that Seeds Here Now will be the only company featured with the "Top Cannabis Seed Sales Service 2026" title.
