

NG Architects Wins Multiple International Awards for Villa Pearl, Expanding Its Presence in the Caribbean

International recognition reinforces NG Architects' leadership in coastal and hillside architecture as the studio grows its presence across the Caribbean

MIAMI, FL, UNITED STATES, December 8, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- NG Architects, an international architecture studio known for its work in luxury coastal and hillside residences, has been honored with multiple global awards for its recently completed Villa Pearl project on Roatán Island, Honduras. The recognition reinforces the studio's reputation as a trusted global partner for private clients seeking high-end architectural design in the Caribbean and other international destinations.

We are seeing growing demand for high-end coastal and hillside design, and these recognitions strengthen our role as a trusted partner for ambitious projects worldwide.”

Villa Pearl received distinctions from respected institutions, including the Architecture Madrid Awards, BIG SEE Architecture Awards, Future House Awards, and the International Excellence Awards.

Jurors highlighted the villa's strong emotional impact and NG Architects' skill in delivering ambitious, context-driven architecture in complex environments — from steep topography to challenging coastal and island conditions.

Award juries noted Villa Pearl's architectural clarity, emotional resonance, and sensitivity to place. The project was recognized for its contemporary coastal expression and its ability to respond effectively to the unique demands of a remote island site through a thoughtful, context-responsive design approach.

These awards arrive as NG Architects continues to expand its global portfolio, now comprising more than 100 completed projects across over 30 countries. The studio is currently developing new work in Trinidad & Tobago, Dubai, Sharjah, Egypt, and Spain, responding to increasing demand for context-driven, high-end architectural design for complex coastal, hillside, and tropical sites.

“These recognitions motivate our entire team,” added Ignas Vengalis, Founder and CEO of NG Architects. “We see growing interest from clients seeking experienced architects for ambitious environments. Villa Pearl is a strong example of what thoughtful, place-sensitive design can achieve.”
