

Jonathan's the rub Brings Its Signature Dining to Bridgeland®

HOUSTON, TX, UNITED STATES, December 10, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Jonathan's the rub is pleased to announce the grand opening of its newest location in Bridgeland® — the 11,500-acre master planned community in northwest Houston developed by Howard Hughes Communities™. The restaurant joins a growing lineup of dining, retail, and commercial office offerings in the community's 925-acre urban hub, Bridgeland Central®. This marks the restaurant's fourth Houston-area outpost, following the success of its Memorial Green, Campbell Place, and East End locations.

"We were looking for the next frontier — a community with a booming population and a clear vision for growth that aligns with our brand," said chef and owner Jonathan Levine. "When we discovered Bridgeland and learned it was a Howard Hughes development, we were immediately impressed. With their reputation for developing generational communities, we felt confident that Bridgeland was the right place for our family and for Jonathan's the rub."

The menu mirrors the brand's signature mix of scratch-made, eclectic American fare — from hand-cut steaks and fresh seafood to pastas and salads — and features an elevated bar program with modern craft cocktails, a rotating draft beer system, and a curated wine list from the restaurant's in-house sommelier.

The restaurant offers over 5,500 square feet of interior space, complemented by two patios totaling more than 2,600 square feet. Its design embodies 'casual elegance,' with flexible private dining rooms, a lively bar, and indoor-outdoor areas accented by natural elements like fire and greenery. Philip Ewald Architecture and Texana Builders served as the project's architect and general contractor, respectively.

Jonathan’s the rub at Bridgeland is located at 20215 Bridgeland Creek Parkway, Suite 200, Cypress, Texas 77433.
