This natural collaboration celebrates boldness, bravery, and the pursuit of excellence.

Grindstone Compound boasts world-class facilities and elite coaching for motocross athletes determined to elevate their race. The program combines expert training, track access, fitness, and nutrition — helping riders at every level perform at their best. To keep up with the demands of their training, athletes rely on wholesome, energy-packed foods — and Rockit™ apples are the perfect grab-and-go choice. The owner of Grindstone, Cari Schehr, shared, “We’re honored to have Rockit™ apples supporting the Training Facility and our race teams for a second year. The values we instill in our riders—nutrition, balance, and consistent healthy habits—align perfectly with the clean, natural energy Rockit provides. Rockit™ apples have become a staple in our program, helping our athletes start their day right and refuel after training. We’re excited to continue this partnership for another successful year.” The Grindstone crew will be in events all throughout the west in January and February of 2026. Not only does Grindstone Compound work with professional motocross athletes, but it has also expanded its reach to amateur riders looking to raise their game.
