

2026 Rome Design Awards Now Open for Global Submissions

The 2026 Rome Design Awards opens for entries, inviting architects, designers, studios, and brands to showcase their most outstanding masterpieces.

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES,
December 16, 2025 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- The 2026 Rome Design Awards officially opens for entries, inviting architects, designers, studios, and brands from around the world to showcase their most outstanding masterpieces. Organised by the International Awards Associate (IAA), the competition honours innovation, functionality, and creative vision across diverse disciplines, celebrating ideas that define design excellence.

2026 Rome Design Awards is Calling for Entries

Moving into its second year, we look forward to seeing entries that embody precision, clarity, and innovation, where designs not only capture the present but influence the future for years to come.”

Advancing Global Design Excellence

Following a successful debut year, the Rome Design Awards strengthens its standing as a global platform for professional recognition. This year’s competition continues to champion originality and craftsmanship, inviting entries that demonstrate how form, material, and usability coexist.

“The Rome Design Awards represents more than recognition; it’s a reflection the evolution of design worldwide,” said Thomas Brandt, spokesperson of IAA. “Moving into its second year, we look forward to seeing entries that embody precision, clarity, and innovation, where designs not only capture the present but influence the future for years to come.”

Categories Across Global Design Disciplines

Submissions are open across major categories, including: Architectural Design, Interior Design, Product Design, Furniture Design, Lighting Design, and Packaging Design. Each category welcomes diverse entries that showcase creative problem-solving, and visual coherence.

Submissions will be evaluated by an international jury panel consisting of industry professionals in design. Through a blind judging process, each entry will be reviewed with impartiality and precision, ensuring that recognition is awarded solely on design merit and execution.
