

Scalo earns Clutch 1000 recognition for third consecutive year

Scalo ranks among the top B2B companies globally, out of over 400,000, for sustained excellence and client success

WROCLAW, POLAND, December 17, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Scalo, a leading provider of end-to-end software services, today announced its inclusion in the 2025 Clutch 1000 list, marking the third consecutive year the company has earned this distinction. The achievement demonstrates Scalo's sustained commitment to maintaining the highest standards of service delivery and client satisfaction.

The Clutch 1000, published by Clutch - the leading global marketplace of B2B service providers - is an exclusive ranking highlighting the top 1000 highest-rated business service providers, selected from over 400,000 companies on the platform.

Our repeat recognition stems from our approach to understanding both the technical and business dimensions of every project."

Sustained performance across multiple dimensions
The selection process on Clutch evaluates providers across four key criteria:

- Verified client reviews (quantity, quality, and recency)
- Diversity and scope of projects and clientele
- Depth of expertise and competitive specializations
- Strong brand reputation and industry recognition

The three-year streak on the Clutch 1000 list reflects Scalo's systematic approach to service excellence. The company has made continuous efforts to cultivate exceptional service standards, ensure client-focused collaboration, and deliver future-ready solutions that move businesses forward.

"Achieving Clutch 1000 status once is an accomplishment; doing so for three consecutive years reflects something deeper - a culture built on consistency, accountability, and genuine partnership with our clients," said Jakub Stadnik, Head of Delivery at Scalo. "Our repeat recognition stems from our approach to understanding both the technical and business dimensions of every project. We ensure our solutions align with our clients' strategic objectives and drive measurable outcomes. That commitment to excellence, maintained year after year, is what sets us apart."

"Earning a spot on the Clutch 1000 places a company in a league of its own and highlights true excellence in service," said Mike Beares, Founder and CEO of Clutch. "These standout firms have built their reputations through exceptional client satisfaction, consistent results, and a commitment to delivering real impact. We're proud to celebrate their achievements and help connect them with businesses seeking trusted partners to drive success."

Building on a foundation of excellence

The Clutch 1000 recognition arrives as Scalo continues to grow its presence in new regions and industries, positioning itself as a global partner for enterprises seeking comprehensive software services - from strategic staffing and technical consulting to building advanced technological solutions that address complex business challenges. Scalo remains focused on the fundamentals that have driven the company's success: deep client partnerships, technical rigor, and an unwavering commitment to delivering solutions that create lasting business value.
