This designation expands factory-backed support for MD operators across Central and Eastern Europe and reflects AERO IDAG's longstanding expertise with MD airframes, including the MD 902 Explorer and MD 500/530 series helicopters.

"Expanding localized, OEM quality support is central to MD Helicopters' aftermarket strategy," said Daniel Searcy, VP Aftermarket & Supply Chain of MD Helicopters LLC. "AERO IDAG's proven track record with MD platforms, its strong civil and military approvals, and its central location in Budapest enable us to respond faster and more effectively to operators throughout the region."

"For many years, our team has supported MD Helicopters operators," said Zoltán Ozolli, Director of AERO IDAG Kft. "Becoming an MD Authorized Service Center is a natural next step and a strong vote of confidence in our team. Our priority is to keep MD operators flying safely, reliably, and with full satisfaction in the platform."

Comprehensive support for MD helicopter operators

As an MD Authorized Service Center, AERO IDAG provides full support for the MD 902 Explorer and MD 500/520/530 series helicopters. The company focuses on delivering availability, reliability, and long-term value. ASC services include supplying genuine MD Helicopters spare parts and approved consumables; line, base, and heavy maintenance; repair and overhaul (MRO); and aircraft upgrades such as avionics and performance enhancements. AERO IDAG also offers fleet management and technical consulting, secure helicopter storage with all required maintenance, and coordination of logistics and import/export formalities across the region.

Strategic hub in the heart of Europe

Operating from a dedicated hangar and support facilities at Budapest's Ferenc Liszt International Airport, AERO IDAG benefits from excellent connectivity across Central and Eastern Europe.

The company holds multiple civilian and military approvals and operates under ISO 9001:2015 and NATO AQAP 2110 quality management systems. It supports a wide range of helicopter platforms, including MD Helicopters 500/530/902 series and leading Airbus models, allowing mixed fleets to be serviced under one roof.

This new ASC designation aligns with MD Helicopters' strategy to expand and rebalance its global service network, giving operators more support options and faster response times.
