What's New in the Latest Samaritan Vigil Update

Mission Context Intelligence

Samaritan Vigil now allows users to define mission-specific parameters—such as executive travel, event security, or ongoing threat monitoring—directly within the platform. This mission context enables Vigil's AI to better understand operational intent and prioritize intelligence that is relevant to real-world security objectives.

Context-Enhanced AI Relevance Ranking

The AI relevance engine has been upgraded to incorporate mission context when evaluating and ranking intelligence. This enhancement improves threat prioritization and ensures analysts focus on intelligence aligned with their current operational environment.

AI Transparency & Justification

To increase trust, auditability, and decision confidence, Vigil now provides background explanations showing why specific intelligence items were flagged as relevant. Analysts gain clear insight into the factors influencing AI assessments, supporting faster and more defensible security decisions.

Favorites & Intelligence Bookmarking

A new bookmarking feature allows users to save critical intelligence items for rapid access. Analysts can build mission-specific collections of intelligence, supporting continuity across extended or recurring operations.

Historical Intelligence Search

Vigil now includes comprehensive historical search capabilities, allowing users to query all previously collected intelligence within their account. Advanced filtering tools enable analysts to quickly identify trends, link related events, and retrieve past intelligence tied to specific missions or threats.

Optimized AI Relevance & Threat Detection

Backend enhancements to Vigil's AI relevance and data-processing systems further improve accuracy in identifying legitimate threats while reducing false positives—delivering cleaner, more reliable intelligence outputs for security teams.
