Company Maintains Monthly Product Development Cycle

Butler Specialty Company operates with a product development approach that introduces new items monthly. The company works with manufacturing resources across more than 12 countries and maintains partnerships with factories meeting environmental and ethical standards.

The company serves various distribution channels and provides product development services for clients requiring custom solutions. Services include concept development, design sketching, production, and drop-ship fulfillment.

Material selection includes hardwoods, veneers, marble, stone, and metal finishes. The company's design team studies market trends and works with existing accounts to address product gaps and incorporate feedback into new designs.

Commercial and Residential Applications

The dining table collections are designed for use in dining rooms, meeting rooms, restaurants, cafes, lounges, and hospitality spaces. The protective finishes applied to the tables are designed to withstand daily use in high-traffic environments.

Maintenance instructions for all tables include wiping clean with a clean dry cloth and regular dusting. Spills should be wiped with a damp cloth and dried immediately. Abrasive or household cleaners that can damage wood surfaces should be avoided.
