

Carbon Forward Middle East 2026 Unveils Landmark Agenda

DUBAI, UNITED ARAB EMIRATES,
December 21, 2025 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- Carbon Forward Middle East 2026, the region's premier climate and carbon market event, has unveiled its landmark agenda for December 14-15, 2026. The event, co-located with the 14th and 15th editions of the Middle East Green Week, will bring together global and regional leaders to explore how carbon markets can catalyse climate change. The agenda features a series of high-level discussions, panel debates, and workshops, all centered around the theme of 'Good news... more corporates are setting climate goals'. The event is expected to attract over 1,000 delegates from across the Middle East and beyond.

The event's agenda is designed to provide attendees with a comprehensive overview of the latest developments in the carbon market. Key topics include the role of carbon markets in achieving net-zero targets, the impact of carbon pricing on corporate behavior, and the challenges and opportunities of carbon trading. The event will also feature a series of workshops and roundtables, providing attendees with the opportunity to engage in meaningful discussions and share best practices.
