BitBasel Unveils Institutional-Grade Tokenized Fine Art Featuring a pure Silver Michelangelo

At the prestigious Family Office Forum, BitBasel introduced a groundbreaking tokenized fine art model, headlined by a Silver Michelangelo sculpture, positioning art as an institutional-grade asset class. The initiative drew significant interest from family offices, investors, and financial leaders exploring compliant, high-value entry points into tokenized cultural assets. "ArtOS creates the institutional infrastructure for art, enabling compliant fractionalization that transforms cultural assets into transparent, investable, and enduring value." said Antonio Vasaiely.

Ocean Planet Gallery Launches: Art for Impact Meets Kings Exhibition & Queens Gathering

BitBasel debuted the Ocean Planet Gallery, a powerful new space merging art, environmental consciousness, and social impact. The gallery united the Art for Impact initiative, the Kings Exhibition, and the Queens Gathering, creating a multidimensional space that celebrated leadership, sustainability, and purpose-driven creativity.

From Music to Film: BitBasel Explores the Future of Tokenized Entertainment

BitBasel also served as a launchpad for tokenized entertainment, hosting the debut of Shaggy's new album while spotlighting innovation in film financing through a tokenized film project featuring Nicolas Cage. These activations demonstrated how blockchain and tokenization are reshaping ownership, distribution, and fan engagement across music and cinema.

Daymond John Headlines BitBasel Art & FinTech Forum

Entrepreneurial icon and Shark Tank star Daymond John headlined the BitBasel Art & FinTech Forum, bridging entrepreneurship, creativity, and financial innovation. His presence underscored BitBasel's ability to convene influential voices across industries while redefining the concept of "Shark Art"—where culture meets capital.

BitBasel Sets Course for Its Next Moon Mission

Looking beyond Earth, BitBasel teased its next bold chapter during Mooon.Party, where AstroGLPH took center stage. The activation previewed BitBasel's upcoming Moon Mission, continuing the platform's exploration of space, technology, and art as the ultimate frontier of human expression.

An Experiential Movement, Not Just an Event

With immersive installations, high-level forums, cultural premieres, and institutional dialogue, BitBasel Miami 2025 transcended the traditional event format, positioning itself as a living ecosystem and experiential movement—one that connects creators, collectors, investors, and
