

RockWallet is now available in South Dakota

WILMINGTON, DE, UNITED STATES, December 23, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- RockWallet LLC, makers of the self-custodial, multi-currency wallet designed to make it simple to buy, use, store, and trade digital assets securely, today announced it has received a South Dakota Money Transmitter License ("MTL").

The MTL gives RockWallet's South Dakota customers the ability to buy, sell, and swap digital assets directly within the RockWallet self-custody app, in addition to securely holding their assets. RockWallet continues to monitor regulatory developments closely as it works to expand its services across additional jurisdictions.

"We're pleased to add South Dakota to the growing list of states where RockWallet is licensed to operate," said Steve Bailey, President of RockWallet. "Obtaining this license supports our strategy of providing users with secure and compliant access to digital asset services nationwide."

Since its founding, RockWallet has remained committed to maintaining regulatory compliance and adhering to the highest operational standards within the financial services industry. RockWallet is available for download on the Apple App Store and Google Play Store.
