

Moradi Neufer Hosts Free Webinar to Help Parents Keep Teens Out of the Divorce Crossfire

Partner Patricia Van Haren and teen wellness specialist Dr. Unnatti Jain share tools to reduce conflict, protect teens, and co-parent with clarity.

SAN FRANCISCO, CA, UNITED STATES, January 2, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Moradi Neufer, a premier California family law firm known for compassionate, strategic representation, announces a free educational webinar titled "Teens Out of the Crossfire: A Parent's Guide to Reducing Emotional and Legal Fallout and Keeping Them Safe, Grounded, and Conflict-Free." The webinar will take place online on January 16, 2026, from 12:00 PM to 1:00 PM PST.

Divorce is hard enough for adults, but for teens, the emotional and legal turbulence can feel overwhelming. Even when they seem fine, many teens absorb stress, uncertainty, and pressure in ways that can show up later at school, at home, or in relationships. This practical, compassionate conversation is designed for parents who want to reduce conflict, avoid putting teens in the middle, and create stability during an unstable time.

In this webinar, Patricia Van Haren, Partner at Moradi Neufer, and Dr. Unnatti Jain (Ph.D.), teen emotional wellness specialist, team up to share clear, actionable guidance for protecting teens during family transitions. Attendees will learn how day-to-day choices, communication patterns, and co-parenting dynamics can either increase stress or help teens stay grounded, resilient, and supported.

Webinar highlights include:

How conflict impacts teens emotionally and how to reduce it quickly and consistently

Practical ways to communicate without putting teens in the middle

Creating stability and boundaries across two households

Co-parenting tools that support your teen's mental health, school life, and relationships

Legal considerations that can help parents stay focused on the big picture during custody-related decisions

"Parents do not have to choose between protecting their legal interests and protecting their teen's emotional well-being. Both matter, and both can be supported with the right plan, language, and boundaries," said Patricia Van Haren, Partner at Moradi Neuffer. "Our goal is to help families reduce the stress teens did not ask for, keep them out of adult conflict, and move through this transition with more stability and confidence."

Divorce can unsettle teens even when they seem fine. Less conflict and steady routines help them feel safe, stay grounded, and avoid the middle.”
