

Hummingbird Executive Launches a Private App for VIP Concierge and Off-Market Assets

A secure, invitation-driven platform combining luxury consulting, VIP concierge, and private access to off-market assets and opportunities.

CANNES, FRANCE, January 1, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Hummingbird Executive, the private luxury platform built for high-net-worth individuals and global decision-makers, today announces the launch of the Hummingbird Executive App — a secure, invitation-driven ecosystem bringing together high-end consulting, VIP concierge services, and access to off-market luxury assets and investment opportunities, all in one place.

Built for clients who prioritize privacy, trust, and flawless execution, the app delivers a modern alternative to traditional concierge and advisory models — one that is discreet by design, powered by vetted partnerships, and focused on secure access without public exposure.

Private luxury is the future: verified access, secure execution, and total discretion.”

Mrs Duquesne Deborah

“Luxury today is not about visibility — it is about discretion, trust, and results,” said Deborah Duquesne, investor and founder behind the Hummingbird ecosystem. “We created the Hummingbird Executive App to offer a protected, high-performance space where elite clients can access premium services and off-market opportunities with total confidence.”

Services all in one secure hub

For you, we'll fly backward

In today's luxury market, privacy is no longer optional — it is essential. From private travel and high-level reservations to rare asset sourcing and confidential investment conversations, affluent individuals and family offices expect service providers who understand that discretion is not a feature — it is the foundation.

Hummingbird Executive was built with privacy embedded into the platform structure:

No advertising. No cookies. No resale of client information. No compromise on discretion.

“Too many luxury services still operate like open networks — fragmented, exposed, and unprotected,” added Guillaume Jardinier, Director at Hummingbird Executive. “Our members don't want attention — they want certainty. This app is designed to protect them while delivering exceptional outcomes worldwide.”

A New Standard: Consulting + Concierge in One Trusted Space

Unlike conventional platforms that focus only on concierge requests, the Hummingbird Executive App integrates two strategic pillars:

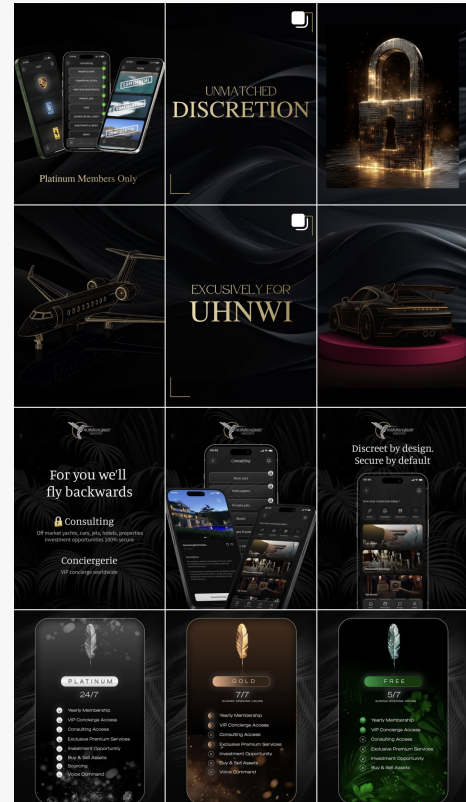

1) Hummingbird Consulting — a high-end advisory layer supporting clients seeking secure access to:
Off-market lifestyle and investment opportunities
Private introductions and strategic partnerships
Luxury market intelligence and confidential sourcing
Trusted execution with verified professionals

2) VIP Concierge Worldwide — a curated concierge service for premium lifestyle requests, including:
Private travel and complex itineraries
VIP restaurant and nightlife reservations

Off-Market Assets and Investment Opportunities, Securely Managed

The Hummingbird Executive App provides secure access to off-market luxury assets and opportunities, including:

Rare and high-value properties

Yachts, cars, private aircraft and luxury items

Premium hospitality and confidential services

Private investment opportunities through verified channels

To preserve security, Hummingbird Executive applies a structured access process so sensitive information is shared only with verified members and under appropriate confidentiality conditions. This protects both buyers and sellers and reinforces the platform's position as a private marketplace built on trust.

Membership Designed for Elite Needs

The app offers multiple membership pathways designed around increasing levels of service access and discretion.

At the highest level, Platinum Membership is invitation-only and reserved for a select few individuals who meet the platform's standards through a rigorous selection process. Platinum members benefit from:

VIP white-glove service with a dedicated team

24/7 availability and priority execution

Exclusive off-market assets not visible outside the app

Potential investment opportunities with private access

Total discretion and enhanced privacy protection

No commission on private jet charters (Platinum benefit)

The platform reflects a central belief:

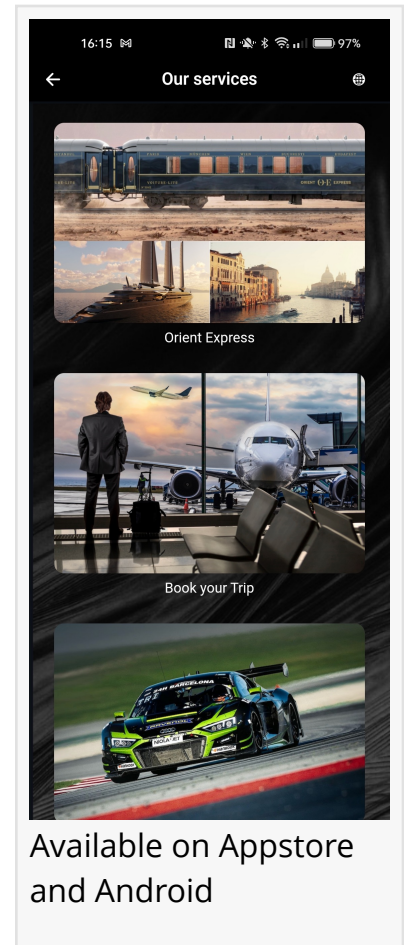

Luxury should be effortless, secure, and deeply personal — not transactional.

Global Ecosystem, Built on Trusted Partnerships

Hummingbird Executive operates through a curated global network and continues to expand collaborations with select luxury brands, hospitality leaders, and elite service providers. The company's strategy is clear: to build a private ecosystem where members receive the highest standard of results worldwide, with confidentiality preserved at every stage.

Availability

The Hummingbird Executive App is now available to eligible clients and members. Individuals interested in joining may begin the process through official channels and will be guided through onboarding and verification steps based on membership level.
