

NHuS³ Media Marks a New Chapter as Its Content Slate Continues to Grow

NHuS³ Media is entering a new chapter as its content slate continues to expand.

DALLAS, TX, UNITED STATES, January 5, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- NHuS³ Media is entering a new chapter as its content slate continues to expand, reflecting a studio that is finding its voice while widening the kinds of stories it chooses to tell.

Over time, NHuS³ has gravitated toward work that is rooted in people - stories shaped by lived experience, contradiction, and consequence. As the studio grows, that focus has only sharpened, guiding both the tone of its projects and the formats in which they live.

“

We're more interested in the stories that remind people they're not alone in what they're navigating.”

Andrew White

One of the most recent additions is The Brightside, a web-based video series now streaming on the Find Your Brightside YouTube channel. The series centers on everyday wins and losses, moments in the news, and personal reflection, all filtered through a perspective that looks for clarity rather than cynicism. The idea is simple: when attention is paid, even briefly, people tend to find their footing.

“There's a lot of noise telling people what to be angry about,” said Andrew White – Co-Owner at NHuS³ Media. “We're more interested in the stories that remind people they're not alone in what they're navigating.”

Alongside its short-form work, NHuS³ has been quietly developing longer-form narratives that lean into more complex and, at times, uncomfortable subject matter. The studio confirms it is currently collaborating with Jonathan Murphy in connection with a forthcoming feature film, part of a broader effort to explore character-driven storytelling at a larger scale.

NHuS³ Media is an independent studio from Dallas, Texas.

Rather than chasing volume, NHuS³ describes this moment as one of alignment. The studio's growing slate reflects a balance between optimism and realism - an understanding that meaningful stories often sit somewhere between hope and hard truth.

More information on upcoming projects will be shared as development continues.
