"Reaching 100,000 titles represents an extraordinary body of work, and we're grateful to all who have worked alongside us over the years to create it," said Troy Julian, Chief Content Officer for RBmedia. "There is a story behind every one of these 100,000 audiobooks, but each one begins with an author or publishing partner placing their trust in RBmedia.

Over time, this catalog has become one of the most remarkable collections in publishing, reflecting the work of thousands of authors across every genre—from bestselling franchises to first-time authors in whom we were happy to invest.

The thousands of narrators who have added their voices to this catalog include many award-winning performers, on whose vocal cords the industry was built and new fans converted. These narrators continuously refined their art, and many became the most trusted partners of many authors.

We'll continue to build on this legacy with great titles, innovative productions, and more ways to connect even more listeners everywhere with great books in audio."
