MANCHESTER, UNITED KINGDOM, January 7, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Manchester-based activist rock band Alternative Influence makes a bold comeback after a nearly 20-year hiatus, unleashing their latest single "SHE IS THE REVOLUTION (WE ARE THE REVOLUTION)" – a fiery anthem inspired by global icon Greta Thunberg.

Formed in 1998 by frontman and conceptual artist Lee Devenport, the band first gained attention in the early 2000s, emerging from Manchester's underground scene with a dedicated following in anarchist and activist circles across Europe. In 2006, they were spotlighted on the BBC Music website alongside legends like Oasis, Johnny Marr, and Take That, hailed as the "next big thing" from the city's vibrant independent music community.

Previous releases showcased their commitment to social change: the uplifting party track "Come On In & Join The Party" celebrated multiculturalism and inclusivity, while "Time 4 Her To Shine" became an empowering anthem for women's football. The latter received widespread radio support, including airplay on BBC Radio Manchester, and aligned with the band's shirt sponsorship of Radcliffe Women FC – perfectly timed with the England Lionesses' triumphant back-to-back victory at UEFA Women's EURO 2025.

Now, "SHE IS THE REVOLUTION (WE ARE THE REVOLUTION)" – taken from the upcoming album Love & Let Live – channels urgent calls for justice and equality. The track and its accompanying video centre on Greta Thunberg, incorporating her powerful speeches advocating for the protection of marginalised communities under international law. The video also features footage from the 2025 Freedom Flotilla Coalition's humanitarian mission to deliver aid to Gaza, highlighting ongoing struggles for human rights and solidarity.

Alternative Influence has always blended music with activism, using their platform to amplify voices for positive change. This explosive return single is a rallying cry for revolution through unity, empathy, and action.
