The outdoor pizza oven market is experiencing strong growth driven by rising home cooking trends and consumer interest in outdoor entertaining. The COVID-19 pandemic heightened the appeal of home-based outdoor cooking, amplifying demand for durable, easy-to-use outdoor ovens. And this trend continues to accelerate.

The Hybrid Pizza Oven features 390 square inches of cooking surface and dual fuel capability: a stainless steel L-shaped gas burner delivering 40,000

BTUs for consistent heat, plus a stainless steel jet-type burner (9,000 BTUs) that ignites wood for traditional cooking. A cordierite cooking stone ensures even heat distribution across the cooking surface.

Built with a stainless steel interior, the oven includes a stainless steel wood rack and ash catch for easy cleanup, adjustable feet for stability, high/low burner controls, a stainless steel chimney, and an ambient temperature readout. The unit is ETL certified and backed by Summerset's Gold Standard Lifetime Warranty.
