“Customers are asking for food that's made with simple ingredients, tastes great, and fits everyday budgets,” said Oliver Buccicone, CEO of Michele's Granola. “Breakfast Nook delivers on all three, bringing the comforting flavors people love most about breakfast into the granola clusters we're known for.”

Each variety includes the addition of whole grains like buckwheat, quinoa and millet, creating light, crispy granola clusters. The flavors are

- Almond Croissant Granola – toasted almonds and crisp clusters reminiscent of the bakery favorite

- Cinnamon Roll Granola – aromatic cinnamon and non-dairy white chocolate chips
- Chocolate Chip Pancake Granola – inspired by weekend pancake stacks with organic maple extract and chocolate chips.

Michele's Breakfast Nook is Non-GMO Project Verified, plant-based and gluten-free. The line arrives on shelf at select retailers in January, including Giant Food, Albertsons, Safeway, Food Lion, Jewel Osco and other regional partners, with broader national distribution planned throughout 2026.
