

Itiliti Health Receives WEDI's Innovation in Health IT Award for Advancing Prior Authorization Automation

MINNEAPOLIS, MN, UNITED STATES, January 8, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Itiliti Health, a leader in prior authorization automation, is proud to announce that it has been recognized with the Innovation in Health IT Award by the Workgroup for Electronic Data Interchange (WEDI). The award celebrates organizations that have contributed to the advancement of health IT and administrative automation in healthcare.

WEDI presented the award to Itiliti Health in recognition of the company's dedication to improving national health through the deployment of innovative technology and its commitment to advancing interoperability across the healthcare ecosystem.

"We're honored to receive this recognition from WEDI," said Michael Lunzer, CEO of Itiliti Health. "This award reflects the hard work, creativity, and commitment of everyone at Itiliti Health, as well as the strong collaboration we have with our customers and partners. We truly enjoy working with all our customers, partners, and organizations like WEDI to collaborate and improve prior authorization workflows and the ecosystem for everyone involved."

The recognition highlights the meaningful impact Itiliti Health is making in transforming the prior authorization process and advancing automation across the healthcare ecosystem. As health plans and state Medicaid agencies work to meet the January 1, 2027 CMS-0057 compliance deadline, Itiliti Health continues to deliver solutions that enable payers to achieve full compliance with electronic prior authorization requirements while reducing administrative burden and improving the provider and patient experience.
