The conference continues to serve as a key forum for executive level dialogue on issues shaping global connectivity.

“

From sold out leadership programs and new research initiatives to the new Alaka'i Stage, PTC'26 reflects a community investing in people, ideas, and long term impact.”

Brian Moon, CEO of PTC

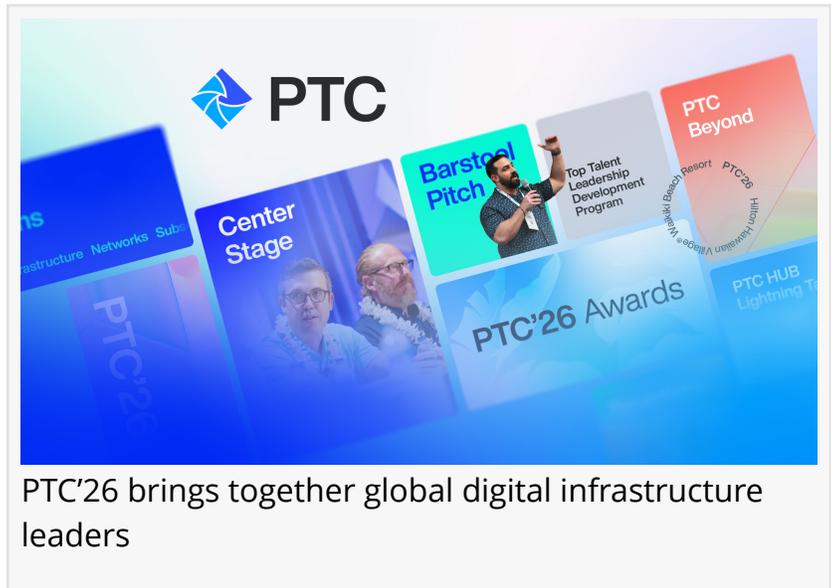

“PTC'26 reflects the scale and urgency of the conversations happening across our industry right now,” said Brian Moon, CEO of PTC. “The pace of registration shows that leaders see real value in coming together to address what's next for digital infrastructure.”
