Institute of Medicine
of Chicago

The State of Health of Chicago will take a critical eye on the healthcare and public health ecosystem, including access to care, behavioral health, maternal and child health, homelessness, cancer rates, vaccines, fluoride and oral health, building trust, and social determinants of health, as well as addressing social challenges and improving resources for better health outcomes. Through decisive collaborative discussions and rigorous evidence-based strategies, the Institute is committed to tackling disparities and transforming healthcare in our communities.

MISSION and PROGRAMMATIC FOCUS

Advancing health equity by reducing healthcare disparities.

The Institute of Medicine of Chicago is a dynamic, forward-looking association that unites industry leaders, community advocacy groups, and experts throughout Chicagoland and the State of Illinois. The convening is a pivotal event, as it will drive meaningful change and bring together those who play a role in transforming the public and healthcare fields.
