

Blokko Revolutionizes Global Commerce @ NRF 2026: Merchants Accept Crypto & Stablecoins with Local-Currency Settlement

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, January 11, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Blokko today announced a major expansion of its consumer and merchant payment capabilities, with its software now running on the LANDI Global mobility device, M20. Debuting at NRF 2026: Retail's Big Show, the integration enables merchants to accept payments from crypto wallets and international digital wallets while receiving settlement in their local currency—removing friction, volatility, and complexity from cross-border and digital payments.

This advancement transforms how goods and services are paid for at the point of sale. Consumers gain the freedom to pay using modern digital assets and wallets, while merchants benefit from faster transactions, lower processing costs, and seamless settlement without exposure to crypto price fluctuations.

Unified Global Payment Capabilities The Blokko platform, demonstrated live at the LANDI Global Booth 2253, now offers seamless integration for:

- Global Crypto & Stablecoins: Acceptance of the world's largest cryptocurrency exchanges and stablecoins (USDT/USDC).
- International Real-Time Rails: Full support for dominant instant payment systems, including Pix

- Omnichannel Excellence: Leveraging Blokker's established e-commerce support, retailers can provide these diverse payment options online and in-store via a single, unified interface.

"Retailers today cannot afford to ignore the shift toward regional instant payment rails and digital assets," said Gustavo Jimenez, CEO of Blokker. "By partnering with LANDI at NRF, we are demonstrating that whether a customer wants to pay with a digital wallet from Argentina, Chile, or an international crypto exchange, the merchant experience remains fast, secure, and simple. Our goal is to make global commerce truly borderless."

"Our goal is to support all forms of payment so merchants can adopt innovative solutions that adapt to their needs and prepare them for the future," said Eliezer Garcia, Managing Director for Latin America and the Caribbean at LANDI. "LANDI has over 20 years of experience manufacturing payment and commerce solutions, enabling Blokker on our devices allows us to combine proven hardware expertise with next-generation payment innovation—delivered simply and securely."

Live Demonstrations at NRF 2026 Attendees can visit the LANDI Booth 2253 to see the Blokker solution in action. The demonstration features LANDI's high-performance hardware running Blokker's software, showcasing how a single interface can process transactions from international rails and crypto wallets in seconds.
