FAIRMONT, WV, UNITED STATES, January 12, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- TMC Technologies (TMC), a leading small business innovator delivering advanced technology solutions to federal and commercial customers, announced today that Jeff Edgell, the company's Chief Operating Officer and Executive Vice President, has been appointed President and Chief Executive Officer, effective January 1, 2026.

"Jeff's leadership and breadth of management experience have transformed TMC into a stronger, more agile, and more disciplined organization," said Linger. "He has built teams, developed leaders, and introduced operating efficiencies that have directly contributed to TMC's success across all areas of our business. I am confident the future of TMC is secure in the hands of Jeff and his leadership team."

With more than 35 years of experience managing complex information technology programs, Edgell brings a proven track record of growing businesses, improving operational performance, developing leaders, and fostering a culture of excellence. His leadership approach emphasizes accountability, clarity, continuous improvement, and a strong family-oriented culture, creating an environment focused on execution, mission success, and long-term sustainability.

Under Edgell's leadership, TMC has secured numerous government contract wins, including selection as a prime contractor on the Information Technology Supplies and Support Services 2nd Generation (ITSSS-2) Blanket Purchase Agreement. These achievements have fueled accelerated growth, with several major contract awards secured at the end of 2025 and additional awards expected to be announced in the first quarter of 2026. The company anticipates 2026 to be a record-setting year for TMC in terms of sales and growth.

"I am humbled and honored to be appointed by Wade and the Board of Directors," said Edgell. "I look forward to leading TMC forward, continuing to invest in our people, strengthen our operational foundation, expand our capabilities, and deliver exceptional outcomes for our customers."
