

Vesant.ai Officially Launches Enterprise Compliance and Risk Intelligence Platform for Digital Gaming with SCCG

Built for gaming, iGaming, cryptocurrency, fintech, and payments companies, Vesant.ai is designed to help operators meet escalating regulatory demands

LAS VEGAS, NV, UNITED STATES, January 15, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Vesant.ai today

The next era of digital gaming and financial platforms will be defined by trust, transparency, and real-time intelligence”

Benjamin Floyd, Founder and CEO of Vesant.ai

announced the official launch of its enterprise compliance and risk intelligence platform, delivering real-time AML screening, fraud prevention, intelligent case management, and AI-powered insights for companies operating in highly regulated digital environments. The platform launches with strategic support from SCCG Management, reinforcing its focus on the global gaming and iGaming sector.

Built for gaming, iGaming, cryptocurrency, fintech, and payments companies, Vesant.ai is designed to help operators meet escalating regulatory demands while maintaining speed, scalability, and operational clarity. The platform consolidates critical compliance workflows—including KYC, AML watchlist screening, transaction monitoring, geolocation enforcement, fraud management, regulatory reporting, and tax reporting—into a single, institutional-grade system.

Founded by Benjamin Floyd, a global compliance expert with more than 20 years of experience leading financial crime programs at Fortune 500 companies, Vesant.ai introduces a modern, real-time, bi-directional architecture that enables continuous data exchange between operator systems, Vesant’s risk engine, and licensed third-party data providers. This design allows risk decisions to be enforced instantly at key moments such as onboarding, deposit and withdrawal, wagering activity, and ongoing customer lifecycle monitoring.

“The next era of digital gaming and financial platforms will be defined by trust, transparency, and real-time intelligence,” said Benjamin Floyd, Founder and CEO of Vesant.ai. “Legacy compliance models were never designed for always-on, multi-jurisdictional ecosystems. Vesant.ai was built to reimagine compliance as a living risk intelligence layer—one that continuously evaluates behavior, adapts to risk priorities, and empowers operators to move faster without sacrificing control. Our goal is to help the industry shift from defensive compliance to proactive, intelligence-led growth.”

A defining feature of Vesant.ai is its AI-powered compliance intelligence layer, which enables compliance teams to query their entire risk environment using natural language. Embedded directly into the platform, the AI interface provides instant analysis, contextual summaries, and operational insights—while maintaining strict client-level data isolation and enterprise-grade security standards.

Vesant.ai also delivers advanced investigation and reporting capabilities through its intelligent case management system, offering unified alert triage, visual entity mapping, 360-degree customer profiles, and audit-ready reporting. These tools are designed to reduce manual workload, accelerate investigations, and improve regulator readiness across jurisdictions.

While Vesant.ai operates independently as a technology platform, its launch is supported by strategic collaboration with SCCG Management. Stephen Crystal, Founder & CEO of SCCG, is a strategic partner to Vesant.ai and a personal shareholder in the company, reflecting shared alignment on the future of compliance infrastructure in regulated gaming markets.

“Regulatory complexity is accelerating faster than most legacy compliance systems can handle,” said Stephen Crystal. “Vesant.ai is purpose-built for the realities of modern digital gaming and financial platforms—real-time data, multi-jurisdictional exposure, and constant regulatory change. This platform represents a meaningful step forward in how operators manage risk and compliance at scale.”

The launch of Vesant.ai comes at a critical time for the gaming and digital asset industries, as regulators globally intensify enforcement around AML, fraud prevention, responsible gaming, and cross-border compliance. Vesant.ai aims to provide operators with the tools needed not only to comply, but to turn compliance into a strategic advantage.
