

DreamFi and Ben Crump Law Announce Community-Focused Partnership with National Baptist Convention USA, Inc.

The partnership reflects a shared commitment to strengthening communities through financial education, stewardship, and access to legal resources.

STAMFORD, CT, UNITED STATES, January 16, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- DreamFi, the soon-to-launch financial empowerment platform co-founded by renowned civil rights attorney Ben Crump, together with Ben Crump Law, announced a partnership with the National Baptist Convention USA, Inc., one of the largest faith-based organizations in the United States. The partnership reflects a shared commitment to strengthening communities through financial education, stewardship, and access to resources that support sound financial decisions and long-term stability, while reinforcing the importance of expanding access to legal assistance.

Throughout 2026, DreamFi will work alongside National Baptist Convention USA, Inc. leadership to engage congregations in conversations on financial wellness, planning and building generational wealth, including a prominent presence at all four annual National Baptist Convention gatherings. Through these engagements, members will explore DreamFi as a resource designed to help individuals and families manage their finances with confidence.

Through its mobile platform, DreamFi offers members practical resources designed to support everyday financial decisions and long-term planning. Features include?:

- A checking account¹ with no minimum balance requirements
- Essential financial protections, including $5,000 complimentary term life insurance⁴, telehealth access with no copay, up to $1,000 in annual cell phone protection⁵ and roadside assistance⁶
- Savings on important monthly expenses such as prescriptions and mobile services⁸
- Access to a nationwide network of more than 50,000 surcharge-free ATMs³

In addition, Ben Crump Law will serve as a trusted legal resource for constituents of the National Baptist Convention USA, Inc. who may encounter civil rights violations or other incidents, offering guidance, advocacy, and support in pursuit of justice and accountability⁹.

The partnership brings a holistic approach to service, addressing both economic empowerment and civil rights protections, while reinforcing the National Baptist Convention's mission to strengthen communities across the nation.

"For generations, churches have been trusted anchors in our communities and have stood at the front lines of the fight for dignity, justice, and opportunity," Crump said. "This partnership is about expanding access to financial education and legal resources that will help families make informed decisions to build stability that lasts for generations. When communities are financially informed and legally supported, they are better positioned to grow, lead, and thrive."

Crump will address attendees at the National Baptist Convention's first major gathering this month, highlighting economic dignity, access, and the vital role faith institutions play in supporting financial well-being.

"This partnership is about meeting people where they are and equipping them with knowledge and tools that align with our mission of service," said Dr. Boise Kimber, president of the National Baptist Convention USA, Inc. "Our churches have long served as trusted pillars in their communities. Working with DreamFi allows us to extend that support into financial education, helping families build stability, make informed decisions, and plan for future generations."
