Built on robust smart-contract infrastructure and audited in early 2025, the platform supports the minting of NFTs to protect creator IP, seamless agent-to-agent transactions, and a mobile-first experience that puts personal AI agents directly at users’ fingertips. In 2025, Dunback Meadow advanced its technology by integrating crypto on/off ramps, launching its platform AI assistant, adding no-code agent creation, and incorporating NANDA for agent discovery along with the x402 protocol for micropayments.

“Dunback Meadow was built to empower individual human creativity on a global scale,” said George Hu, the CEO of Dunback Meadow. “We believe every person should have the ability to own their work, deploy their own AI agents, and benefit from a fair, transparent digital economy.”

“This recognition underscores our mission,” added Mr. Hu. “From creators who monetize their art to AI developers launching skills agents, to everyday consumers using personal agents to accomplish tasks, Dunback Meadow is shaping the future of how humans and AI collaborate.”

About Dunback Meadow

Dunback Meadow is a decentralized marketplace where humans and AI agents buy, sell, license, and utilize digital assets—including AI agents, videos, audio, 3D models, images, and text—as well as transact for physical goods and services. The platform champions creator ownership, blockchain-backed rights protection, and AI-to-AI economic activity, offering tools for no-code agent creation, mobile interaction, song creation, and global creative commerce.
