

Ray Gifted Keys Reveals Cinematic Music Video for 'That's On Me' With Exclusive BTS Access

DETROIT, MI, UNITED STATES, January 21, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ --

Visionary independent artist Ray Gifted Keys unveils the cinematic music video for her single "That's On Me," premiering on YouTube January 28 at 8:00 PM EST. The release is accompanied by exclusive behind-the-scenes (BTS) footage, offering an unfiltered look into the creative direction, collaboration, and intentional artistry behind the visual.

"Co-directed every frame, bringing my vision to life. Watch 'That's On Me' and feel the energy. #IAmGifted #RnBStorytelling #IndependentArtist"

Filmed at The Compound Creative Space in Detroit, the "That's On Me" music video transforms themes of accountability, reflection, and personal growth into a visually immersive experience. Grounded in performance and atmosphere, the visual reflects Keys' Detroit roots while presenting a polished, forward-thinking aesthetic. The video includes a special appearance by Swifty McVay of D12, symbolically connecting Detroit's legendary hip-hop lineage with Keys' evolving R&B-driven sound.

Co-directing 'That's On Me' let me bring my vision to life — this video is all heart, Detroit, and owning my story."

RAY GIFTED KEYS

Co-directed by Ray Gifted Keys and Rick, with creative direction by Kat and Rick, the project underscores Keys' role as a self-directed artist with a clear visual and musical vision. Production and cinematography were led by The Architexx Production Studios LLC, under Matthew and Jeremiah Seegers, delivering a cinematic execution that elevates the emotional weight of the record.

The accompanying BTS footage documents the real-time creative process, highlighting preparation, intention, and on-set leadership. Together, the premiere and BTS release position Ray Gifted Keys not only as a recording artist, but as a creative architect shaping her own narrative.
