

Cusp Wealth is the First AI-Powered Investment Platform to Receive Fatwa

The DFSA-licensed company has just received a Shariah certification Fatwa by Amanie Advisors. Setting a new benchmark for Shariah-compliant investing in the UAE

DUBAI, UNITED ARAB EMIRATES, January 23, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Cusp Wealth, a DFSA-licensed investment company, announced today that it has become the first AI-powered wealth management and investment platform in the UAE to receive an official Shariah certification (Fatwa). The certification was granted by the Shariah Supervisory Board of Amanie Advisors, a leading authority in Islamic finance and Shariah-compliant investment advisory.

Sharafie Mohd Daud, CEO & Director at Amanie Advisors, remarks:

"Cusp Wealth demonstrates how innovation, technology, and Sharia-compliant considerations can come together to create responsible, future-ready wealth platforms for all."

The Fatwa validates that Cusp Wealth's investment platform, screening methodology and operational structure comply with Islamic principles, enabling Shariah-conscious

The graphic features the CUSP logo at the top left. Below it, the text reads "Invest in your wealth without compromising your values". A list of three bullet points follows: "✓ No interest-based earnings (riba)", "✓ Halal-certified ETFs & stocks (official Fatwa certification by Amanie Advisors)", and "✓ No excessive uncertainty (gharar) or speculative trading". The background is a warm orange-brown with a stylized crescent moon and star in the center. At the bottom, small text states: "CUSP Ltd is a licensed financial services entity in the DIFC, regulated by DFSA. CUSP Ltd has DFSA's Islamic Endorsement to offer Shariah-compliant financial services. This ad is for Retail Clients, as defined by the DFSA. Not available or promoted outside the DIFC. Consult a professional for personal advice."

Cusp Wealth currently offers 1,300+ Shariah-compliant stocks and ETFs, that are screened and approved according to Islamic finance standards.

Cusp Wealth is a DFSA-regulated wealth management and investment firm providing institutional-grade portfolio management to investors.

investors to access institutional-grade portfolio management while remaining faithful to their values.

Commenting on this milestone, Ramesh Murthy, Senior Executive Officer at Cusp Wealth, said:

"Receiving this Fatwa represents and validates our commitment to serving the diverse values and principles of investors across the region. Shariah-conscious investing shouldn't mean sacrificing access to sophisticated wealth management tools or paying premium fees. With this certification, we are proving that institutional-grade portfolio management, AI-driven optimisation and Islamic finance adherence can coexist seamlessly within one platform." The Fatwa certification validates Cusp's Shariah investment ecosystem, including its comprehensive screening process powered by Zoya, which evaluates over 10,000 securities across business activities and financial ratios to exclude companies involved in prohibited sectors such as gambling, alcohol and conventional interest-based finance. Cusp Wealth currently offers 1,300+ Shariah-compliant stocks and ETFs, that are screened and approved according to Islamic finance standards.

Commenting on this milestone, Saad Malik, CEO of Zoya, said:

"By leveraging Zoya's API, Cusp has streamlined the complexity of Shariah screening to deliver a modern investment platform aligned with Islamic principles. We're proud to support them in setting a new benchmark for what sophisticated, Shariah-compliant wealth management can look like in the region."

Availability

Cusp Wealth is available to investors with full Shariah-compliant investment capabilities accessible through both iOS and Android applications. Account opening and verification can be completed entirely through the mobile app, with bilingual support available on demand in English and Arabic.
