McNeely has served the dental profession since 2001 and is widely known for his expertise in exit architecture, helping dental entrepreneurs navigate seven- and eight-figure practice transitions. By coordinating tax, legal, investment, and estate planning across multiple advisors, McNeely helps dentists capture their full potential when exiting or scaling their practices.

"This recognition belongs to the clients who let me walk with them through complexity and transition," said McNeely. "My work has always been about helping great builders harvest what they've built—wisely and well."

As a CFP®, CIMA®, CEPA®, and CPFA®, McNeely brings deep credentials and industry insight to a space often marked by fragmented financial advice. Research from CEG Insights, a firm McNeely has on retain, shows that 95.7% of business owners focus on maximizing pre-sale company value, 91% neglect to coordinate personal wealth strategies before closing. Combined with the fact that only 6.8% of financial advisors proactively offer advanced planning, practice sellers routinely surrender hundreds of thousands—sometimes millions—to preventable tax liabilities and missed planning opportunities.

McNeely combats this with his Virtual Family Office model, a unique framework designed to provide dental entrepreneurs with fully coordinated financial planning that goes beyond investment management. His platform supports dentists who are ready to transition ownership while preserving legacy and maximizing post-sale wealth.

“We’re proud to support Tim as he continues to elevate the financial wellbeing of dental professionals,” said Dr. Catrise Austin, spokesperson for Celebrity Branding LLC. “His recognition is a reflection of trust, expertise, and an unwavering commitment to the dental community.”

McNeely also hosts the Dental Wealth Nation Show podcast and is author of Dental Wealth Nation, a strategic guide for dental professionals planning major exits. His message is simple: “Dental entrepreneurs planning $10M+ exits don’t need more advisors—they need a Personal CFO.”
