CELEBRATING IN STYLE

The Cover Color Parties mark a defining moment in The Scout Guide's annual production cycle, as members cast their votes to select the signature hue for the upcoming volume. The winning color - kept secret until the November launch - always brings a sense of anticipation and delight. This year's gatherings offer members, both new and returning, the chance to connect and celebrate the forthcoming volume together for the first time.

Frasca Hospitality Group will host these exclusive celebrations at their acclaimed Boulder and Denver locations, providing the perfect backdrop for an evening of discovery, connection, and celebration with the businesses and tastemakers featured in the 2026 editions.

THE BEST OF LOCAL FROM COAST TO COAST

People worth meeting. Businesses worth supporting. Stories worth telling.

A PARTNERSHIP ROOTED IN SHARED VALUES

Frasca Hospitality Group has spent two decades shaping Colorado's culinary identity with restaurants including the James Beard Award-winning Frasca Food and Wine, Tavernetta and more. Their dedication to quality, attention to detail, and investment in local communities mirrors the core principles that drive The Scout Guide.

Leigh Gordon, Owner and Editor of The Scout Guide Denver, shares:

"Frasca Hospitality Group represents the very best of what we celebrate in The Scout Guide - exceptional quality, authentic relationships, and an unwavering commitment to community. They have built something truly special across Colorado, and we couldn't imagine better partners to help us celebrate this exciting moment with the businesses and creatives who make our guides possible."

Kristie Shehan, Owner and Editor of The Scout Guide Boulder, adds:

Partnering with them for these Cover Color Parties feels like the perfect collaboration - bringing together incredible food, meaningful connections, and a shared appreciation for what makes Colorado extraordinary."
