BESPOKE · REGENERATIVE · RADIANT.

Hosted by Lana Kerr, CEO of Lumisque Inc. and founder of CO2Lift®, CARBOXY COUTURE brings together leaders from fashion, regenerative science, wellness, and the creative industries for an intimate evening designed to spark dialogue, visibility, and meaningful connection.

At the heart of the experience is a shared philosophy: what happens beneath the surface defines the outcome.

For CO2Lift®, recovery is essential to clinical results.

For Vickie Riggs, intention defines impact in design.

Together, the brands present a unified narrative—support is not secondary, it is foundational.

The evening program includes:

- A moderated panel discussion on regenerative innovation in aesthetic medicine, led by Dr. Heather Brennan and featuring Dr. Jeanine Downie, Dr. Matt Stefanelli, and Dr. Gustavo Leibaschoff
- A conceptual fashion presentation styled and designed by Vickie Riggs, inspired by the physical and sensory elements of carboxy therapy—oxygenation, circulation, pressure, release, and renewal
- A private international networking mixer connecting global innovators, tastemakers, and industry leaders

Riggs' designs serve as a visual and emotional interpretation of regeneration, transforming scientific principles into sculptural silhouettes, intentional textures, and expressive movement. The presentation reinforces recovery not as an afterthought, but as an active, powerful process—mirroring the values that define both brands.

Set in Paris, a global epicenter of culture, science, and fashion, CARBOXY COUTURE represents a modern model of luxury—one rooted in integrity, expertise, and women-led collaboration. Rather than existing as isolated brands, CO2Lift® and Vickie Riggs demonstrate how aligned leadership can create ecosystems of support that expand visibility, deepen impact, and reshape global conversations.

The event will be hosted at Uma Nota Paris, selected for its intimate atmosphere and ability to guide guests seamlessly from insight to expression to connection.

Special thanks to Aerolase for their support of CARBOXY COUTURE and their continued commitment to innovation in aesthetic medicine.
