

NATIONAL SPACE SOCIETY SPACE BUSINESS COMPETITION CLOSES ON FEBRUARY 15

Cash Prizes Totaling $32,000 USD To Be Paid Out

KENNEDY SPACE CENTER, FL, UNITED STATES, January 28, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The National Space Society's annual Martine Rothblatt Space Settlement business plan competition for 2026 is accepting entries through midnight, Pacific Time, February 15, 2026. The competition challenges students, academicians, entrepreneurs, and the broader space community to develop compelling business plans that will help to enable space settlement in the coming decades. Three awards of $16,000, $10,000, and $6,000 USD are granted for the best business plans that will help to advance our expansion beyond Earth.

Dr. Rothblatt has been a pioneer in satellite communications, founding the Sirius XM radio network in 1990. They later became the chairperson and CEO of United Therapeutics, a biotechnology company devoted to prolonging human life. Their trailblazing work in organ replacement has saved countless lives and will be a key technology in creating sustainable communities in space. Dr. Rothblatt's vision for space settlement is vast, encompassing the next century of human migration into space.

We're looking for amazing business plans that address some part of the human expansion into space.”
