companion helping Employers, Employees, Job Seekers, HR Teams, and business owners to simplify everyday HR tasks - from HR policies to resumes and HR letters in minutes.

Across industries and regions, HR teams and professionals face increasing pressure to manage documentation, compliance clarity, and career-related queries while adapting to diverse work models and local regulations. As AI in HR continues to reshape how organizations approach people's operations, many teams are seeking HR Tech solutions that reduce manual work while improving consistency and clarity. From drafting policies and letters to answering employee questions and supporting hiring processes, routine HR tasks often consume significant time and resources. HRTailor.AI, an AI-powered HR & Career Global Platform, is designed to address these challenges through a unified platform that simplifies common HR and career workflows.

Built for employees, job seekers, employers, HR professionals, consultants, and business owners, HRTailor.AI supports daily HR needs across more than 190 countries. As part of the evolving HR Tech landscape, the platform adapts outputs based on location, employment model, and organizational context, helping users generate clearer, more consistent HR documents and guidance while reducing reliance on scattered templates and manual research.

A Smarter Way to Manage HR

HRTailor.AI brings together a suite of practical, role-focused tools designed to support modern HR teams navigating the shift toward AI-driven HR processes. Instead of relying on generic templates or fragmented resources, users can access structured tools aligned with real workplace situations and global requirements.

Key features available on the platform include:

Ask HRTailor.AI - Provides instant, location-aware responses to common HR questions related to leave policies, contracts, workplace rights, and employment terms. This feature reflects how AI in HR can support faster access to reliable, contextual guidance.

HR Policy Builder - Enables organizations to create customized HR policies aligned with their company profile, jurisdiction, work model, and team size. Outputs are available in downloadable formats suitable for internal use and ongoing updates.

HR Letter Document Builder – Supports the creation of standardized HR letters for practical workplace scenarios, covering stages such as onboarding, role changes, performance communication, and exit processes.

Resume Builder and Resume Enhancer - Helps job seekers and professionals build resumes from scratch or enhance existing resumes into modern, ATS-friendly formats tailored by role, industry, and geography.

Job Description Maker - Assists employers and recruiters in creating structured, recruitment-ready job descriptions with clear role expectations and global applicability.

KRA and KPI Builder - Allows teams to define structured KRAs and KPIs, supporting clearer performance measurement and role accountability within organizations.

Smart HR Calculators and Utilities – Includes commonly used tools such as Employer CTC Calculator, Income Tax Calculator, Gross-to-Net Salary Calculator, and compliance-oriented checklists that support everyday HR planning.

Supporting Global HR Needs

Designed with flexibility in mind, HRTailor.AI aims to serve users operating across different countries, industries, and organizational sizes. By combining HR Tech capabilities with AI-driven workflows, the platform helps reduce ambiguity around HR documentation and supports more consistent decision-making for both individuals and organizations.

Early users of the platform report improved efficiency in handling repetitive documentation and faster access to HR-related information, allowing teams to focus more on people-centric initiatives rather than administrative overhead.

Access and Availability

To encourage adoption, HRTailor.AI offers a Free plan that allows users to explore core features. A limited time launch offer provides 10,000 free credits upon signup, with paid plans available in USD for users with higher usage requirements or ongoing needs.

Founder Statement

“HR shouldn’t feel like a constant scramble for templates, rework, or uncertainty,” said the founder of HRTailor.AI. “As AI in HR becomes more widely adopted, our goal with HRTailor.AI is to simplify everyday HR and career tasks while keeping outputs practical, consistent, and usable across different regions and work models.”
