

Thomas Berndorfer, CEO of COSO wins SME Europe Award for Product Innovation and Future Readiness

The award highlighted Truth Enforcer - a product designed to help verify the integrity of digital files

FUNCHAL, PORTUGAL, January 29, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Yesterday, COSO and Connecting Software CEO Thomas Berndorfer was presented with SME Europe's award for Product Innovation and Future Readiness. The award committee specifically highlighted COSO's flagship product, Truth Enforcer, a solution designed to help users verify the authenticity and integrity of digital files through innovative blockchain technology, as an example of the ingenuity of European Small and Medium businesses. As part of COSO's ongoing partnership with Connecting Software, Truth Enforcer is sold exclusively under the Connecting Software brand.

COSO's Truth Enforcer technology pairs digital files with immutable blockchain hashes, giving a permanent baseline to verify the authenticity and timestamp of a digital file. If any part of the file has been changed, it will never match this hash – giving a business owners a quick, efficient and third-party verifiable means of proving a file is authentic.

This product has the potential to save companies significant cost and time usually spent notarizing files in line with compliance requirements and provides an early warning system against attempts by bad actors to alter key files.

Nominated by Portuguese MEPs Paulo Cunha and Paulo do Nascimento Cabral, it was COSO's first time participating in the award, which is designed to celebrate businesses throughout the European Union and connect them with policymakers in the European Parliament.

Thomas Berndorfer, CEO of COSO and Connecting Software said “I’m tremendously proud of the work that COSO has done to innovate in its sector and deliver exceptional value for its customers. Truth Enforcer is a product that will become increasingly important in the age of AI – when bad actors can create convincing forgeries seemingly at will, it will be critical for large organizations to consistently verify the integrity of critical contracts, invoices and documents.

SME Europe is a great organization that highlights the exceptional work of European businesses across the continent and the globe. We’re excited to continue our partnership with them”

After the award ceremony, Thomas Berndorfer participated in a roundtable of European businesses about European business regulations, particularly how they can be streamlined to unlock greater growth.
