Since then, TGR Foundation has driven transformational impact in the lives of young people from the classroom to thriving lives and careers in pursuit of a world where all have the opportunity to unlock their unlimited potential.

Through TGR Foundation and its nationwide network of TGR Learning Labs and educational programs, students receive opportunities, experiences and guidance, which help them discover their passions and prepare for their futures. TGR Foundation's programs focus on STEAM educational enrichment, health and well-being and career and college readiness, empowering students with the knowledge and tools needed to thrive in school and life.

"In 1996 Tiger set out with a big dream, to positively impact the life of one person every day. Through TGR Foundation, we are realizing that dream and more, by reaching thousands of young people annually, providing them with access and opportunities toward a brighter future," said Cyndi Court, CEO of TGR Foundation. "Our impact is possible because of our partners and supporters, such as EY US, who continue to support our mission. Together, we are empowering the next generation to turn their dreams into reality."

Since 1996, TGR Foundation has touched the lives of more than 3 million young people. Through its TGR Learning Labs and Earl Woods Scholar Program, the Foundation has emphasized education as a cornerstone, serving more than 217,000 students from under-resourced communities through its programs.

TGR Foundation is committed to equipping young people from under-resourced communities with the skills, confidence and resources needed to pursue their dreams. 2026 will not only be a celebration of TGR Foundation's impact, but it will also launch its next major chapter: expanding TGR Learning Labs to new communities in need. This expansion will enable thousands more students each year to access immersive learning experiences that ignite curiosity, build essential skills and empower them through education. Driving Dreams Together is also a call to mission-aligned partners to join Tiger in creating more opportunities for young people to achieve their dreams.

In addition to the flagship TGR Learning Lab in Anaheim, California, the Foundation opened the Smilow Woodland TGR Learning Lab at the Cobbs Creek Golf & Education Campus in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in 2025 and has announced plans for future locations in Los Angeles, California at Lulu's Place, Atlanta, Georgia, in partnership with the Arthur M.
