

Alaska Divorce Professionals Join Divorce with Respect Week® 2026

ANCHORAGE, AK, UNITED STATES, February 4, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Alaska Association of Collaborative Professionals will be participating in 5th annual Divorce with Respect Week® from March 1 – 8, 2026. Members of the group will offer free divorce consultations throughout the week. The consultations are an opportunity to learn about different divorce options including how to peacefully divorce by using a no-court option like the Collaborative Divorce process.

Collaborative Divorce is a divorce process for settling disputes in a respectful, rational manner by reaching a resolution without court intervention. Both participants, with their own collaboratively trained attorneys, along with neutral experts in parenting and financial issues, design a settlement agreement that is in the best interests of their family, rather than having a judge make those important decisions for you.

The Alaska Association of Collaborative Professionals is a not for profit collective of lawyers, financial professionals, mediators and counselors dedicated to offering clients a confidential, out-of-court, dignified approach to handle divorce, custody, modification, guardianship and other family matters through the use of the Collaborative Divorce process. During Divorce with Respect Week®, individuals or couples can speak with participating divorce professionals in Alaska for free. To find a participating professional go to www.divorcewithrespectweek.com/dwrw-alaska/.

Collaborative Practice California first launched Divorce with Respect Week® in 2021. It has since grown into a national movement to help couples facing divorce to find a better way to untie the knot.
