NEWARK, NJ, UNITED STATES, February 1, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Houzeo, America's best home buying and selling website, announced the launch of its new "Best Places to Live" landing pages. The rankings highlight the top 10 New Jersey cities based on housing affordability, income alignment, and economic strength. This helps homebuyers make more informed decisions about locations.

Houzeo's methodology for the Best Places to Live rankings is grounded in a structured, quantitative approach. Instead of subjective assessments of livability, Houzeo examines cities through reliable housing and economic datasets. The evaluation uses employment figures and job stability data from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, along with cost-of-living comparisons from C2ER. It also factors in median home prices and typical rent from Houzeo's own housing analytics and income data from the U.S. Census Bureau.

Among the best areas to live in New Jersey, Houzeo ranks Millburn at the top, driven by exceptional public schools, access to premier shopping and art venues, and a sub-40-minute commute to New York City. Despite higher property taxes, Millburn's elite services and academic outcomes continue to attract families. The city posts a median home price of $1.9M and a median rent of $3,200, reflecting its premium positioning within New Jersey.

Following closely are other high-performing cities, including Summit, Hoboken, and Montclair, with approximately $1.8M, $910K and $1.1M as the median home prices, respectively. These cities collectively round out the top three in Houzeo's rankings. Explore the full list of the best places to live in New Jersey to see how each city compares across the Garden State.

Hoboken, Jersey City, and New Brunswick, where strong job markets, nightlife, and transit access to New York City create ideal environments for career growth. Retirees seeking healthcare access, walkable downtowns, and relaxed lifestyles favor Ocean City, Cape May, and Lambertville.
