PHILADELPHIA, PA, UNITED STATES, February 1, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Houzeo, America's best home buying and selling website, announced the launch of its new "Best Places to Live" landing pages. The rankings highlight the top 10 Pennsylvania cities based on housing affordability, income alignment, and economic strength. This helps homebuyers make more informed decisions about locations.

Houzeo's rankings are built on a rigorous, data-first framework designed to remove subjectivity from livability comparisons. Instead of opinion-based scores, it analyzes cities using verified housing and economic datasets. The methodology blends employment and job stability data from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, cost-of-living benchmarks from C2ER, and housing metrics such as median home prices and rent sourced from Houzeo's proprietary listings. Income figures from the U.S. Census Bureau further help measure how well earnings align with local housing costs.

Among the best areas to live in Pennsylvania, Houzeo ranks State College as the top city. Known for its safe neighborhoods, highly rated public schools, and stable economy driven by Penn State University, State College offers an exceptional quality of life beyond its college-town reputation. With a median home price of about $539K and a median rent near $1,760, the city appeals to buyers seeking long-term stability, cultural amenities, and easy access to outdoor recreation.

Other cities earning top positions in Houzeo's Pennsylvania rankings include Lancaster, Bethlehem, Harrisburg, Allentown, and Philadelphia.
