SAN FRANCISCO, CA, UNITED STATES, February 7, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ --

Certify360.ai, the industry-leading certification exam preparation platform and a brand of Big Data Trunk, today announced a major milestone: it now supports exam preparation for over 100 professional certifications spanning the world's most in-demand technology vendors, including Amazon Web Services (AWS), Microsoft Azure, Google Cloud, Cisco, Oracle, Snowflake, Salesforce, ServiceNow and numerous other top certification providers. This achievement reinforces Certify360.ai's mission to help professionals systematically advance their careers through targeted learning and exam success.

“

We are thrilled to celebrate this key milestone, reaching support for more than 100+ certs. This reflects our commitment to empowering learners to succeed in competitive job markets with confidence.”

Raju Shreewastava, CEO of Certify360.ai

Built on cutting-edge AI technology, Certify360.ai delivers personalized study plans, adaptive learning paths, real-time performance insights, topic-based quizzes, and full-length mock exams tailored to individual learner profiles. The platform's expansive exam library includes widely recognized credentials such as AWS Solutions Architect, Microsoft Azure Fundamentals, Google Cloud Professional certifications, SnowPro Core, Cisco DevNet, CompTIA Security+ and many more — now totaling 100+ supported tracks.

***Delivering Career-Ready Skills Through AI-Driven

Learning***

Originally launched as a web-based platform in 2025, Certify360.ai has rapidly expanded its offerings to encompass a broad range of certification paths across cloud, networking, security, data, AI, project management, and more. The platform's intelligent algorithms continuously evaluate user performance to identify knowledge gaps, recommend focused study modules, and offer practice opportunities designed to build competence and confidence before exam day.

Certify360.ai's exam catalog covers major certifications such as:

- AWS Cloud & Specialty Exams – including Solutions Architect, AI Practitioner, and Machine Learning Engineer.
- Microsoft Azure Certifications – from Fundamentals to Expert and role-based tracks.
- Google Cloud Professional Certifications – including Cloud Architect and Data Engineer.
- Cybersecurity and IT Credentials – such as CompTIA Security+, CEH, and CISSP-related prep.
- Specialty & Agile Credentials – including SnowPro, SAP, Oracle, Agile, and program management tracks.
- Other Certifications like Salesforce, Cisco, and many more

***Future Plans***

Certify360.ai aims to expand its offerings to cover a broader range of professional certifications, including non-IT certifications, and introduce advanced AI features. With growing demand for AI-driven education solutions, Certify360.ai is poised to become a leader in the EdTech industry.

*** Who Can Benefit from Certify360.ai?***

- Students & Professionals: Those preparing for IT certifications (AWS, Cisco, CompTIA, Microsoft, etc.), business certifications (PMP, Six Sigma), healthcare exams, and more.

- Corporate Training Teams: Companies can utilize Certify360.ai to upskill employees and improve certification pass rates through data-driven learning insights.
- Educational Institutions: Colleges and training centers can integrate the platform to enhance their certification prep programs.

A Competitive Edge in Certification Success

Unlike traditional exam prep solutions, Certify360.ai stands out with its adaptive AI engine, real-time analytics, and interactive learning model. The platform's ability to simulate real exam scenarios while providing instant feedback sets it apart from competitors. Early adopters have reported a 60% improvement in study efficiency and higher certification pass rates within just weeks of use.

Mobile and On-The-Go Learning With Android App

To further enhance accessibility, Certify360.ai also recently launched its Android app, bringing the full suite of exam prep capabilities to mobile devices. Learners can engage with personalized study plans, practice quizzes, and timed mock exams anytime, turning short breaks, commutes, or spare moments into productive preparation time.
