Chuck Horst, President

The Accessories Council, the leading trade organization for the luxury accessories industry, chose to spotlight Margaret's story in their milestone Fifth Anniversary Issue dedicated entirely to handbags and luxury accessories. This prestigious recognition validates decades of dedication to perfecting specialized textile care, luxury dry cleaning services, and designer fashion restoration, positioning Margaret's as an industry authority in both couture apparel cleaning and luxury accessory restoration nationwide.

As the nation's first five-star luxury dry cleaning service for all couture apparel and premium textiles, Margaret's has earned multiple industry awards for its specialized textile care, designer clothing repair, and luxury fashion restoration. The company has received the prestigious Design Excellence Award from the Accessories Council for its "remarkable ability to give luxury items a longer life," specifically recognizing its expert restoration of a severely burned Celine handbag, which demonstrated its capability to revive even the most challenging luxury handbag restoration cases.

As quoted in the AC Magazine feature, "Handbag restoration requires technical expertise and a deep understanding of luxury craftsmanship." This philosophy extends across all of Margaret's luxury dry cleaning services, premium textile cleaning, and designer garment care offerings, which have guided their approach for over seven decades. While the magazine feature focused on their luxury handbag restoration capabilities, Margaret's five-star expertise encompasses the full spectrum of couture apparel cleaning, high-end garment preservation, designer clothing repair, and luxury accessory restoration, with each treatment tailored to the unique construction, materials, and specific needs of every piece.

Margaret's comprehensive luxury fashion care services include specialized textile cleaning for all couture apparel, premium dry-cleaning services, designer garment care, and expert restoration of luxury accessories from prestigious brands such as Hermès handbag restoration, Louis Vuitton canvas repair, Chanel bag cleaning, Celine handbag care, Dior bag restoration, Valentino accessories cleaning, and vintage designer piece restoration. Their specialized capabilities encompass exotic leather restoration, luxury canvas repair, hardware restoration and polishing, precision stitching repair, professional color restoration, advanced stain removal, water damage restoration, complete structural repair, and award-winning specialized textile treatments for high-end garments and couture fashion pieces.

Supporting the Growing Luxury Resale Market and Sustainable Fashion Care
