

Hicks Nurseries' 36th Annual Flower & Garden Show Open March 5-29, 2026

The Theme "Game of Gardens" Brings Playful Design, Bigger Blooms and Spring Magic Indoors | Free Parking & Admission

WESTBURY, NY, UNITED STATES, February 4, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Hicks Nurseries, Long Island's premier garden center, invites visitors to step into a world where beloved games meet breathtaking blooms at its 36th Annual Flower & Garden Show, Game of Gardens, running March 5–29, daily from 8am–6pm.

The much-anticipated free indoor event transforms one of the Hicks Nurseries 20,000-square-foot greenhouses into a playful show inspired by the joy, creativity, and nostalgia of classic games. Guests will explore eight uniquely designed gardens, each offering a fresh perspective on how imagination and horticulture come together in unexpected ways. At the heart of the show, a giant Jenga® -style centerpiece anchors the experience, setting the tone for fun and discovery.

"There's nothing like watching people's faces light up the moment they step inside and find themselves surrounded by lush, larger-than-life gardens while winter is still outside," said Eleni Roselli, Director of Marketing at Hicks Nurseries. "The show engages all the senses, creating happiness, inspiration, and a longing for spring."

Game of Gardens features more than 5,000 plants across 250 varieties, carefully timed to bloom throughout the entire run of the show so visitors can discover something new with each visit. Designed and installed by the award-winning Hicks Landscapes Design/Build team in coordination with the Hicks Nurseries retail team, the production is planned a year in advance.
