MILWAUKEE, WI, UNITED STATES, February 9, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Next Day Access, a national leader in mobility and accessibility solutions, is proud to announce the opening of Next Day Access Greater Milwaukee, owned and operated by Brian Schupper. The new franchise will serve individuals and families throughout Southeast Wisconsin, helping people live safely, comfortably, and independently in their homes and communities.

Brian Schupper brings more than 25 years of experience in transformative leadership roles across Wisconsin and the United States, where he helped businesses and organizations deliver high-impact programs and meaningful results. While this work was deeply rewarding, Brian felt drawn to more hands-on, people-centered service: being on the frontlines and making a direct difference in everyday lives.

With deep roots in Southeast Wisconsin, Brian is passionate about caring for people and strengthening the community he proudly calls home. His commitment to service is shared at home as well. His wife, Ellen Friebert Schupper, serves as Executive Director of ABCD: After Breast Cancer Diagnosis, a national nonprofit providing free, one-to-one emotional support to anyone impacted by breast cancer. Together, they are raising their three sons in Milwaukee, grounding their family in values of empathy, service, and community connection.

Through both personal and professional experiences, Brian has developed a deep understanding of the challenges families face when aging at home or caring for loved ones with short- or long-term conditions, including Parkinson's disease, multiple sclerosis (MS), ALS, injuries, and other mobility-limiting diagnoses. These experiences reinforced the importance of practical, compassionate solutions that help people remain safe, independent, and connected to their communities.

In addition to serving individual clients and families, Brian looks forward to building partnerships with like-minded organizations, healthcare providers, and companies that support older adults and people with disabilities. By collaborating across sectors, he aims to amplify impact, expand access to solutions, and help more people live their best lives throughout Southeast Wisconsin.

These values inspired Brian to open Next Day Access Greater Milwaukee on January 21, 2026, where he is proud to provide outstanding, professional, and compassionate accessibility services tailored to the needs of the region. "Milwaukee is home, and this community means everything to me," said Schupper. "I'm proud to bring Next Day Access to Southeast Wisconsin so people can continue living full, independent lives in the places they love; safely, comfortably, and with dignity."
