

DeviQA recognized among leaders in G2's Winter 2026 'Testing and QA providers' category

DeviQA named a leader in G2's Winter 2026 Testing and QA Providers category, based on verified customer reviews highlighting reliable, consistent QA delivery.

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, February 12, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- DeviQA has been recognized among the leading software testing and QA providers in G2's Winter 2026 rankings, based entirely on verified customer feedback.

The recognition reflects consistent client trust in DeviQA and reinforces the company's focus on delivering reliable, scalable QA services that support long-term product stability, not just individual releases.

What this recognition reflects

G2 is one of the most trusted platforms for B2B software and service reviews, built on feedback from verified users sharing real experiences with vendors.

Recognition in the Winter 2026 rankings indicates that clients consistently rate DeviQA highly for quality, communication, and delivery. These evaluations are driven by direct customer feedback rather than marketing claims and come from teams that rely on DeviQA to protect production systems, accelerate release cycles, and reduce operational risk.

Based on current G2 reviews, DeviQA maintains a 5.0 average rating. Clients frequently highlight the company's technical expertise, responsiveness, and ability to take full ownership of QA processes.

What sets DeviQA apart

DeviQA approaches quality assurance as a confidence-building discipline rather than simple defect detection. Clients continue to choose the company for several key reasons:

(1) Depth of expertise. From manual testing to AI-powered automation, DeviQA's engineers bring decades of collective experience and actively adopt emerging tools and methodologies. Clients describe the automation specialists as "outstanding," noting test suites that save hundreds of hours each month.

(2) Full ownership and partnership mindset. Clients report reduced internal oversight, emphasizing that testing is handled end-to-end with minimal guidance. DeviQA integrates into existing workflows and operates as an extension of internal teams.

(3) Clear communication and transparency. Reviews frequently reference daily updates, clear reporting, and proactive risk notifications. QA progress is made visible to support informed decision-making without micromanagement.

(4) Flexible scaling and reliability. Clients value the ability to scale QA teams quickly as requirements evolve. DeviQA supports both early-stage startups and enterprises with complex systems by adapting to varying delivery cadences while maintaining consistent results.

What clients value in working with DeviQA

DeviQA's approach extends beyond execution. QA activities are aligned with product architecture, release cadence, and business priorities, enabling predictable outcomes and reduced operational overhead.

Clients consistently highlight:

- Strong automation expertise with practical implementation
- Clear communication and predictable delivery
- End-to-end QA ownership that reduces internal workload

What clients say on G2

"If you care about quality, if you want automation that just works – seamlessly, efficiently, brilliantly – then you don't just need a QA vendor. You need a partner who thinks like you. That's DeviQA."

"If you need quick, solid testing, pick DeviQA. They'll fix your QA headaches and make your releases way smoother, totally recommend them!"

"My personal recommendation! They'll get your app ready to roll without the stress."

Why this matters for teams choosing a QA partner

Selecting a QA partner is ultimately a question of trust and reliability. DeviQA's five-star ratings indicate that teams across industries value the company's responsiveness, precision, and ability to deliver measurable results.

With more than 250 QA engineers across six engineering hubs and 16 years of industry experience, DeviQA provides the scale and flexibility required to support both fast-growing startups and mature enterprises.

Whether launching a new digital product, scaling an existing platform, or modernizing release processes, DeviQA helps teams release with confidence.

Recognition among the leaders in G2's Winter 2026 report underscores the trust customers place in the company and the impact delivered in real production environments.

Appreciation to clients

This recognition is driven by client feedback and long-term partnerships. Customer trust and collaboration continue to shape how DeviQA evolves its QA practices.

As software systems grow more complex, the company remains focused on advancing automation, AI-driven testing, and smarter QA processes, grounded in real engineering needs.

Quality you can trust. Results you can measure.
