

Dirt Legal DBDRacing Update: Rider Gage Linville Sidelined After Practice Crash

Gage Linville sidelined after practice crash with internal injury; Dirt Legal DBDRacing WMR KTM confirms no timeline for his Supercross return.

FORT LAUDERDALE, FL, UNITED STATES, February 19, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Dirt Legal DBDRacing WMR KTM Team regrestfully informs that Monster Energy Supercross competitor Gage Linville will step away from the seat following an internal injury sustained during a recent practice crash. There is currently no confirmed timeline for his return to the track.

Gage Linville, aboard The Dirt Legal DBDRacing WMR KTM, was injured while training in preparation for the upcoming rounds of the Monster Energy Supercross Championship. After a medical evaluation and a multi-night hospital stay, doctors determined that he needs significant time off the bike to heal properly. His return depends entirely on the recovery process and further medical clearance.

The setback comes at a challenging time for Linville, who has been riding at an exceptionally high level. Just weeks ago, he wrapped up an impressive run in the Partzilla Arenacross Championship, showcasing consistency, speed, and his first two professional career championships in both Pro classes. Throughout the offseason, Linville dedicated countless hours to training and preparation, entering the 2026 Supercross season with strong momentum and confidence.

“Everything happens for a reason,” said Linville. “I’ve been feeling great on the bike and the team and I have been putting in a lot of work. It’s tough to step away right now, but my focus is on healing up properly and coming back 100% ready to compete.”
